

COUNCIL on FOREIGN RELATIONS

58 East 68th Street, New York, New York 10065
tel 212.434.9400 fax 212.434.9800 www.cfr.org

New York Hybrid Symposium

Robert B. Menschel Economics Symposium

Tuesday, June 14, 2022

12:30 p.m. to 1:00 p.m. (EDT)

In-Person Lunch Reception

1:00 p.m. to 2:00 p.m. (EDT)

Hybrid Keynote Session: A Conversation With Meir Statman

This session will discuss how cognitive bias can exacerbate consumer concerns in an inflationary environment.

Meir Statman, Glenn Klimek Professor of Finance, Santa Clara University
Presider: Gillian Tett, Chair of the Editorial Board and Editor-at-Large, U.S., Financial Times

Introductory Remarks: Richard Haass, President, Council on Foreign Relations

2:00 p.m. to 2:15 p.m. (EDT)

In-Person Coffee Reception

2:15 p.m. to 3:15 p.m. (EDT)

Hybrid Session Two: Addressing Inflation Expectations

This session will discuss whether public perceptions of inflation have been compounded from the pandemic compared to other inflationary periods, if central bank mechanisms adequately captured consumer perceptions, and how governments and policymakers communicate to moderate inflation expectations.

Carola Binder, Associate Professor of Economics, Haverford College; Visiting Scholar, Mercatus Center, George Mason University (via videoconference)

Willem H. Buiter, Adjunct Senior Fellow, Council on Foreign Relations; Adjunct Professor, School of International and Public Affairs, Columbia University

Michael Weber, Associate Professor of Finance, Booth School of Business, University of Chicago; Faculty Research Fellow, Monetary Economics and Asset Pricing, National Bureau of Economic Research (via videoconference)

Presider: Michelle Caruso-Cabrera, Chief Executive Officer, MCC Productions; CFR Member

The Robert B. Menschel Economics Symposium was established in 2014 and was made possible through a generous endowment gift from Robert B. Menschel while a senior director at Goldman Sachs. Since Menschel's death earlier this year, the symposium continues in his honor and memory.

Location: Council on Foreign Relations, 58 East 68th Street, New York, New York 10065 and via Zoom Webinar

This symposium is on the record.