

Christopher Isham

Christopher Isham is President of C|T Intelligence, USA, a division of C|T Group, (www.ctgroup.com) a London based international consulting group. Mr. Isham oversees investigative and intelligence projects for the firm in the Americas.

Previously, (2007-2020) Mr. Isham was Vice President and Washington Bureau Chief for CBS News. He was responsible for all the activity of that bureau, including news gathering, personnel and technical operations. The bureau is CBS News' largest and is the major contributor to all CBS News broadcasts and digital platforms. The CBS Evening News with Norah O'Donnell and Face The Nation are broadcast from the Washington Bureau.

Prior to joining CBS News, Isham was the Chief of Investigative Projects for ABC News in New York, where he built an investigative unit recognized as one of the most successful of its kind in television news. Under his leadership, the ABC News Investigative Unit broke hundreds of exclusive reports on a wide range of topics from terrorism to political corruption.

Mr. Isham's reporting assignments at both ABC News and CBS News took him to many locations throughout the world including Afghanistan, Pakistan, Lebanon, Israel, Iraq, Syria, the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, UAE and other countries in the Gulf. He produced the first major network interview with Osama bin Laden in May 1998, and he and his unit broke numerous stories relating to the ongoing threat of international terrorism.

Isham has been recognized with all of the major awards in the broadcast industry including numerous news Emmys, two Columbia DuPont Awards, a Peabody Award, four National Headliners Awards, two Overseas Press Club Awards, the ABA Gavel Award, the Joan Shorenstein Barone Award and three Edward R. Murrow Awards from the Radio Television News Directors Association (RTNDA) and an Investigative Editors and Reporters Award for online journalism.

Mr. Isham is a senior advisor to the independent news site The Messenger (themessenger.com) He is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations and the Economic Club of Washington DC. The son of a U.S. Foreign Service officer, Isham was born in Berlin and has lived in Moscow, Hong Kong, Paris, Haiti and Washington D.C. He is a graduate of Yale College.