

Asaad Hasan Al-Shaibani is the Minister of Foreign Affairs and Expatriates of the Syrian Arab Republic, and the first to assume this role following the fall of the Assad regime. He holds a degree in English Language and Literature from Damascus University and a master's degree in political science and international relations from Istanbul Sabahattin Zaim University. Al-Shaibani has played a central role in shaping Syria's re-emergence on the international stage, working to restore sovereignty, secure sanctions relief, rebuild regional and global partnerships, and advance the country's new foreign policy vision.
