Philanthropy at the Council on Foreign Relations

The Council on Foreign Relations receives charitable contributions from a variety of private sources, including its members, corporations, and foundations. As the premier foreign policy organization in the United States, CFR plays a leading role in contributing to the intellectual momentum that is needed to address a broad spectrum of current and emerging problems, and unrestricted gifts to the Annual Fund help ensure the organization's independence and nonpartisanship. Gifts to CFR are tax deductible to the full extent allowed by U.S. law and, in the case of individual members, are contributed over and above annual membership dues.

Annual Fund

Gifts to the Annual Fund account for 15 percent of the organization's operating budget each year. This critical unrestricted revenue provides support for the Council's meetings, research, website, and related activities. The Annual Fund surpassed $10.4 million this year, with 1,699 members participating. Our leadership group of Annual Fund benefactors, the Harold Pratt Associates (gifts from $25,000 to $49,999), had 232 members, and, of those, 93 members qualified as members of the Chairman's Circle with their gifts of $50,000 or more. CFR is honored to acknowledge those members who supported the 2018–2019 Annual Fund in the list that follows. Many Council members leveraged their gifts by participating in matching gift programs, and sponsoring corporations and foundations are recognized here as well.

Council at 100 Campaign

In 2014, the Council embarked on the largest capital campaign in its history—the Council at 100 Campaign. Our goal was ambitious: to grow our endowment substantially and to generate the financial stability necessary to enter our second century on a firm footing. Five years later, we have not only met our goal but exceeded it. Thanks to the generosity of our members and other supporters, we have secured more than $180 million in gifts and pledges, well surpassing our initial goal of $150 million.

This is a significant achievement, as the campaign total includes only those commitments made over and above CFR’s regular annual fundraising efforts. Gifts from current and former members of the Council’s Board of Directors were particularly significant, constituting more than half the campaign’s total contributions.

These gifts will help support and expand nearly every aspect of the Council’s work. Approximately 60 percent of all campaign gifts were endowment gifts, which will provide the Council with a sound foundation of long-term financial support. Additional gifts provide operating funds to grow CFR’s education initiative, expand our research agenda and talent development programs, broaden our outreach to new constituencies, and support technological upgrades.

CFR is deeply grateful to all who have contributed to the campaign. Their remarkable generosity and foresight will ensure that the Council emerges stronger, more influential, and more ambitious in its next century. It will secure the Council’s future at a time when our country—and the world—needs rigorous debate on foreign policy more than ever before.
