

Paula J. Dobriansky

Ambassador Paula J. Dobriansky, a foreign policy expert and diplomat specializing in national security affairs, is Vice Chair of the Atlantic Council's Scowcroft Center for Strategy and Security and Senior Fellow at Harvard University's Belfer Center for Science & International Affairs. She brings over 30 years of government and international experience across senior levels of diplomacy, business, and defense. She was Senior Vice President and Global Head of Government and Regulatory Affairs at Thomson Reuters and held the Distinguished National Security Chair at the U.S. Naval Academy. From 2001-2009, she was Under Secretary of State for Global Affairs and established and led the Global Issues Fora with India, Brazil and China. Other high-level positions include President's Envoy to Northern Ireland for which she received the Secretary of State's highest honor – the Distinguished Service Medal, President Reagan's National Security Council Director of European and Soviet Affairs, and Deputy Assistant Secretary of State for Human Rights and Humanitarian Affairs. A member of the Council on Foreign Relations and the American Academy of Diplomacy, Dobriansky also served on the Defense Policy Board and the Secretary of State's Foreign Policy Board. She is Chair of ExIm Bank's Council on China Competition. From 1997-2001, she was Senior Vice President and Director of CFR's Washington Office and was the Council's first George F. Kennan Senior Fellow for Russian and Eurasian Studies.