

David Martinez

David Martinez is the Head of Latin America for Strategic Response Policy at Facebook where he advises company leadership on global high-risk content issues and coordinates response to crises including geopolitical conflicts and on-platform harm. Previously, David served as a U.S. Foreign Service Officer. His diplomatic assignments include Jerusalem, Baghdad, the Bureau of Intelligence and Research (INR), and the Foreign Service Institute where he led the redesign of the State Department's negotiation training programs. He also served in Bogota and Havana as Special Assistant to the Special Envoy for the Colombia Peace Process, supporting successful peace negotiations between the Colombian government and FARC guerrillas. David is an Atlantic Council Millennium Leadership Fellow, an ICAP Fellow, and was named one of New America's Latino National Security and Foreign Policy Next Generation Leaders. He serves on the CFR Term Member Advisory Council and co-leads Facebook DC's Latin@ Employee Resource Group.