

Nick Quested

Nick Quested is executive director and owner of Goldcrest Films, where he has built one of the premiere documentary brands in the world, winning two Emmys for his work. Quested has served as a producer on over 35 films, including Sebastian Junger's The Last Patrol, Korengal, and the PGA- and twice Emmy-nominated Which Way Is the Front Line From Here?; the Oscar-nominated Restrepo; and National Geographic Doc Films' duPont Award-winning Hell on Earth: The Fall of Syria and the Rise of ISIS. Quested is also an award-winning music video director, working with such artists as Dr. Dre, Nas, Puffy, Sting, Master P, Cash Money, and Trick Daddy. His credits include "Stretch and Bobbito: Radio That Changed Lives," "Rubble Kings," "Pussy Riot: A Punk Prayer," "Smash and Grab: The Story of the Pink Panthers," "Stolen Seas," "The List," "Tell Spring Not to Come This Year," and "Doin' It in the Park: Pick-Up Basketball, NYC."